

End-User License Agreement (EULA)

Right of Use

1. IB&T Software GmbH (hereinafter referred to as "IB&T") grants the Licensee a non-exclusive and non-transferable right to use the software products and software solutions, but does not transfer ownership.

This right is granted for an indefinite period for purchase licenses and for the duration of the rental period for rental licenses.

Reproduction and Modification

1. Duplication of any programs supplied by IB&T is permitted solely for the Licensee's internal data backup purposes. It is not permitted to pass on or lend programs or copies of programs to persons who do not belong to the Licensee's legal sphere of operations. This applies even if the transfer is intended solely for the purpose of error correction.
2. The Licensee is not permitted to reverse engineer, translate, disassemble, integrate, decompile, remove, modify, combine, create derivative works or updates of, adapt, or attempt to derive the source code of the licensed application or any parts thereof.

Liability and Warranty

1. IB&T warrants that, at the time of download, the licensed application is free from spyware, Trojan horses, viruses, or other malware and guarantees the functionality of the software.
2. No warranty applies to the licensed application if it fails to run on the device (due to system requirements) or if it has been modified without authorization, handled improperly or negligently, combined or installed with unsuitable hardware or software, used with unsuitable accessories—whether by the Licensee or by third parties—or if other reasons impair the operability of the licensed application.
3. The Licensee is liable for any infringement of intellectual property rights or copyrights regarding the licensed software.
4. The Licensee is also liable for all access and actions by its employees concerning the software and its copy protection mechanisms. Such actions are treated as if they had been performed by the Licensee itself.
5. The Licensee acknowledges that, given the current state of the art, errors in the programs and the associated documentation cannot be ruled out. Software errors that are reported in writing to IB&T within the statutory warranty period—but in any case, no later than 12 months after initial installation—and that significantly impair contractual use will be remedied depending on their severity, either by installing a corrected software version or by IB&T providing instructions for a fix or workaround. Software corrections are provided at no cost to the Licensee but do not include software enhancements. Any further warranty claims are expressly excluded. Likewise, liability for damages suffered by third parties, loss of receivables, damage to or loss of stored data, and other indirect or consequential damages is excluded, except in cases of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on the part of IB&T.

Licensing

1. Depending on the specific product, the license is provided either as a single-user license (Single User) or as a network license (Floating license).
2. Available copy protection methods include hardware dongles (standard), license files (License File for fieldbook licenses), and a network-based method (License Server).
3. The licensee undertakes to use the software exclusively within the scope of the valid licenses it has acquired. It assumes liability for any access and actions by its employees.
4. As part of the process of generating license data for the "License File" and "License Server" copy-protection methods, the licensee generates a unique ID using software provided by IB&T. They then send this ID to IB&T for activation. Activation is carried out using a license key or license file.
5. The generated IDs contain exclusively hardware identifiers and no personal data. IB&T uses this information solely to provide licenses that can be used only by the respective licensee and that protect the software against unauthorized access by third parties.

Transfer of License

1. The transfer of rights and obligations under this License Agreement is permitted provided that the third party assumes the rights and obligations arising from this License Agreement and that any copies made by the Licensee (pursuant to Item 1 under "Reproduction and Modification") are likewise handed over to the third party or rendered unusable. Where a subsequent license (secondary or tertiary license, etc.) is granted under this License Agreement, the transfer of rights and obligations arising from this License Agreement is permitted only if the third party also assumes the rights and obligations arising from the initial license and pays IB&T the multi-license discount originally granted at the time of the purchase of the usage right immediately upon the transfer of said usage right.

License Extension

1. The provisions set forth in this Agreement shall also apply—without the need for any further agreement—to all future individual IB&T programs or extensions supplied by IB&T to the Licensee.

Severability Clause

1. Should one or more provisions of this Agreement be or become invalid, the validity of the remainder of the Agreement shall not be affected thereby. The invalid provision(s) shall be reinterpreted or supplemented in such a way that the intended economic purpose is achieved in a legally permissible manner.

These agreements are governed by the laws of the Federal Republic of Germany.
